Get The Most From Your EAP

We all face challenges during our lives. Sometimes we could use a little help to deal with those challenges, but it can be tough to know where to turn.

That's where an often-overlooked employee benefit can be incredibly helpful. It's called an employee assistance program (EAP). Sharpline offers an EAP through an organization called EMPAC for Wichita area employees.

What exactly is an EAP? An EAP is an employer-sponsored program designed to help employees with personal problems that could affect their job performance. EAP resources are almost always free to employees, as well as to their partners and children.

What EAPs offer: EAPs give employees access to a wealth of resources, including individual and family counseling. Some programs also include access to nurse advice lines, financial and legal advice, and more. These resources can help with a variety of challenges, such as:

- Alcohol or substance abuse
- Family and relationship problems
- Trauma
- Adoption red tape
- Child care and elder care
- Stress, anxiety, and other mental health issues
- Domestic violence
